The two part canon is based on the first and second lines of the cantus firmus.

This movement featured a return to simplicity and immediacy of appeal after the complexity of the late Baroque era; this meant simpler, more song-like melodies, decreased use of polyphony periodic phrases, a reduced harmonic vocabulary emphasizing tonic and dominant, a clear distinction between soloist and accompaniment. The striding quaver figures in the pedal part, however, are unusual and are a response to Bach's development from a baroque to a more modern style.

Carl Maria von Weber's first composition was a setting for organ of "Vom Himmel hoch, da komm ich her". This is clearly displayed in the stunning conclusion to the Adagio, in seven voices! Vom Himmel hoch, da komm ich her.
