No Santa Claus? This is not said to disparage or belittle the wonderful achievements of science but to emphasize the fact that there are factors behind all manifestations of nature--intelligences of varying degrees of consciousness, builders and destroyers, who perform important parts in the economy of nature--and until these agencies are recognized and their work studied, we can never have an adequate conception of the way the nature forces work, which we call heat, electricity, gravity, chemical action. This year we decided to do our own advent spiral walk at home and invite some friends.

The bodies originally crystallized in the terrible temperature of Lemuria were too hot to contain sufficient moisture to allow the spirit free and unrestricted access to all parts of the anatomy, as it has at present by means of circulating blood. We keep the food simple with a big pot of soup for everyone to enjoy after we come in from the cold. May God help us during the coming year to attain a greater measure of Christ-likeness than we have ever before attained.
