Chenin Blanc and Palomino. Montrachet can be an immensely frustrating wine. Serve with a very slight chill. A lithe white, showing fine clarity and focus, with orange blossom aromas followed by kumquat and nectarine notes on the palate. Bordeaux, pull your bootstraps up – with only two wines making this list, Burgundy is truly trumping it when it comes to critic scores. While not inexpensive in its own right this exact year can be had for a The Best Wine Ever of the auction price.

Elegant and plush, but with plenty of power within, flexing on the expressive oaky and creamy midpalate, this is deftly elegant and refined. The Raviolo cru is situated in the Grinzane Cavour commune of Barolo, which is dominated by its medieval castle.
